

DISABILITY ACCESS OFFICE

HARVARD | FAS

The Disability Access Office (DAO) partners with FAS students with visible and invisible disabilities to identify barriers and implement plans for access.

Academic

Academic accommodations are individualized based on your needs to eliminate barriers and ensure access to coursework and academic programs.

Housing

Housing accommodations help reduce or remove environmental barriers that significantly limit your access and inclusion in on-campus housing.

Dining

Harvard University Dining Service (HUDS) offers a variety of dining options to meet students' nutritional needs. We will work with you and HUDS to determine accommodations for medically documented dietary requirements, including allergies, intolerances, or other health conditions.

Transportation

Harvard shuttles provide accessible transportation throughout the Cambridge and Allston campuses. Accommodations for close proximity van service are also available if you have specific disability-related transportation needs.

Temporary

We can help facilitate short-term accommodations if you experience temporary impairments due to injury or surgical recovery.

How to register with the Disability Access Office (DAO)

Complete Online Application

Complete a New Student Application on the DAO website, or use the QR code below. Identify your disability and specific access needs by selecting the corresponding application. You may need to fill out more than one application.

Documentation

Upload relevant documentation to your application. Not all students will have complete medical documentation of their disability during the application stage. If this applies to you, please include a note in your application explaining these circumstances.

Attend an Access Meeting

The Access Meeting is an interactive conversation with an Accessibility Advisor and an opportunity for you to discuss your educational experience and the impact of your disability in different environments.

Visit our website to register

dao.fas.harvard.edu

HARVARD
Faculty of Arts and Sciences
OFFICE OF STUDENT SERVICES

dao@fas.harvard.edu
(617) 496-8707